
Around your home SCAVENGER HUNT

Find the calculator you got out because you are helping the kids with their maths homework. Bonus points for photo evidence!

Find the empty alcohol bottle from the time home schooling became too much. Bonus points for photo evidence!

Find the object that's all fun and games until they start to stammer. When their blinking lights go black, then you'll start to mutter. They help you get things done (including your morning workouts with Joe Wicks!), but it's rare that you touch them. Only when the lights go out do you try to press them.

Find the place to turn me on and fill me up. No, I'm not your coffee cup! Stay a while, relax, and rest, and when you're done, you'll feel like your best.

Find the object that helps prop up your feet. They'll keep you company through your Netflix binge. Though you may not notice, they're always there to hold your snacks and drinks.
